First order of business....

On July 13th 2011 - I stated via my blog post here that:

"IF or when the time to apologize to Hugo comes. I will humbly be the second to do so. @anonymouSabu will be the first ....."

Actual instance of that quote by me right here.

I stand corrected - In light of further information and investigations ongoing, I am now more than comfortable with apologizing before @anonymouSabu as suits him that there is confusion, which I will, before the end of this post, attempt to clear up.

In the meantime....

Sincerest apologies from myself and on behalf of the wider group go to Mr Hugo Carvalho (@visigod) - who many of us have previously believed to be the leader of Lulzsec, the group that sprung outta #Anonymous and have, and continue to release amongst many other things innocent folks CC nums, login credentials, emails, .... and the list goes on. In the name of what?

Antisec? #OWS? #Anonymous? - either way google it.

In essence... to Mr Carvalho. I officially apologize. You got caught up in something nothing no mistake, you were caught up in it because @anonymouSabu used that domain sale p notice how he has never sprung to your defense. That's because your 'involvement' suited a campaign.

I myself have been 'doxed' at least 15 times by #anonymous and supporters, always in the name of the poor person they somehow finger as me.

So why would I apologize, when I really have no need to, nobody gives a shit

Because I said I would....

Because the person behind @anonymouSabu is feeling the heat, not least because of what he did.... but also because Stay frosty.

BACK....

Ya gonna need to be compus mentus....

In support of my heartfelt and necessary apology to Mr Hugo Carvalho... Back...so.....a lot of info has been gathered in a short space of time, remember, I dropped the name 'Monsegur' 4/5 months ago... @anonymouSabu never defended him. The secondary name in above linked post was 'Hector Monesgur' – granted a family name. But on the strength of those convictions, over time ...we softly softly... (ps – don't fear the Reaper(sec)) Sabu, AKA @anonymouSabu, thinks that he's fighting for the right cause. He's helped "compromise" many systems. He's helped "compromise" many companies. He's helped "compromise" many people, all under the mask (no Anonymous pun intended) of fighting for freedom for the people

Let's take a look huh on Sabu huh? Whaddya say? (he's not really that scary folks).

Sabu, AKA @anonymouSabu, thinks that he's fighting for the right cause.

All Sabu has succeeded in is helping to "compromise" himself. Let's take a look at <http://pastehtml.com/view/be43yl8ph.html> real quick.

This dump was received on November 15, 2011, from an apparent snag that happened on November 5, 2011.

When Anonymous fought back against AnonOps. You see, the thing about AnonOps is that they have become power hungry little skiddies are more enthralled with their "cool kids club" than with actually performing acts to support the Anonymous idea and cause. So a rogue hacker or group of hackers performed an attack on the AnonOps server and helped produce the aforementioned dump. (Kudos to whoever got this lovely bit of information. Over 4000 idents exposed. Kinda cutting it short on the 9001 collective legion, though, aren't we AnonOps?)

Back to the point. If you will go to the dump link above and search for "compromise@gmail.com" you will find that it's the email used by Sabu to register his nick. Why would this be important? Well lets take a look at some information from the past, shall we?

<http://pastebin.com/vLXBqbeB> – Pastebin link entitled SABU Xavier Monsegur

<http://pastebin.com/911rucP3> – Pastebin link entitled Lulzsec / Sabu – new info

<http://seclists.org/fulldisclosure/2006/Oct/253> – Full Disclosure link showing Xavier asking questions about things that fall in line with Sabu's mindset. Notice the questions about Hamas, jihad, etc.

<http://www.velocityreviews.com/forums/t357473-memory-leak-in-python.html> – Link to a forum thread discussing python, which is known to be a favorite of Sabu's. Please note that the question asking to paste an example of the code comes from compromise@gmail.com

<http://ceax.wordpress.com/uncovered/> – Possibly the biggest hunk of research into Sabu's identity out there. (Extreme props to the author of this post.)

<http://ceaxx.files.wordpress.com/2011/08/sabu.png> – From the above blog post (and Sabu's old Myspace) Kinda looks like the kid in the pic that grandmom is holding up, don't you think?

Thanks to the post at <http://ceaxx.files.wordpress.com> and....

<http://pastehtml.com/view/be43yl8ph.html> which is the dump created by a rogue Anonymous member fed up with the direction that AnonOps has been taking the Anonymous movement.

All possible from a single seed...

The ideology behind Anonymous can be considered a valiant one, even if the delivery is not something to be admired. It took a member of the group to fight back against the injustices that Sabu and AnonOps have been pushing the group towards.

Instead of moving forward, it's just continued to move backwards. I am sure that Sabu never thought that he could be a victim to a "compromise" such as this one.

Then again, what do I know? I'm just another writer in a sea of watchers monitoring the happenings between the proverbial good and evil. With the good majority of Sabu's former clique already caught by law enforcement (Topiary, kayla, tflow, etc.) only time will tell if Sabu/Xavier will meet the same fate.

Did I not tell ya? 4 months ago?

CLICK HERE TO SEE IT LARGE! – CMON? TELL ME I WRONG??

And for all you girls out there – here is ya ANONYMOUSabu Boy, would it be incredibly wrong of me to comment on his silly beard?

(scary no?) LOL!!

My opinion – Kayla dark – but the one to watch. Peace out.

I also urge ya all to lissenup to vid at bottom.

There's an unequal amount of good and bad in most things.... the trick is to figure out the ratio an act accordingly.

BE FROSTY.
